PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS . . .

November 15 - Dr. William Gordon, Provost of Wake Forest University, was today's speaker.

November 22 - Sue Walsh, Vice President of Endowment at UNC -- better known as the Rams Club -- was today's guest. She grew up with parents that set high expectations, so she learned at an early age not to judge yourself against others, but to judge yourself against you. As a student athlete, you must have discipline if you want to succeed both in and out of the classroom. UNC has 28 sports programs. While Sue was a student at Carolina, she was on the swim team. She knows first hand how easily student athletes can fall through the cracks, and encouraged us to work diligently not to let that happen.
