PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS . . .

September 26 – Brian Short, General Manager of the Winston-Salem Storm, Winston-Salem's newest ABA pro basketball team, was today's guest speaker. In addition, Brian is also a pro-sports agent with Alliance Sports Management. The Storm intends to be family entertainment. The goal of management is to teach the players – those young men – how to be men. Most of these players do not possess the skills that the NBA requires, but since these players are local folks, they not only get a chance to play basketball but their interactions with kids will be as positive role models. The Winston-Salem Storm will play its games either at WSSU, the Gateway Y Basketball Court, or at some of the local high schools.

October 3 – When you think of The Beatles, do you think of Jim Gallaher? Well you should. For the past 9 years, Jim has taken 2 weeks' vacation during September to attend the Duke/UNC "Oxford Experience". This program is a combination of classroom and field trips in and around Oxford, England. Each year there is a different topic; this year's was The Beatles. Did you know that the Beatles produced all their music in 3 year's time? In addition to visiting the Soho area of London, the class took a field trip to Abbey Road. The Beatles' last concert was in 1966 at Candlestick Park.

COOK -- CATCH THE PRIDE!

★ WELCOME! Visiting with us on September 26 were Darryl Holland and Debbie Hairston, guests from Cook School. Periodically, staff and teachers from Cook will join us for meetings, strengthening the connection between Reynolda Rotary and Cook Elementary School.
